

Good news for our valued customers

The assets of All-American Hose have been acquired by a group of investors led by Resilience Capital Partners, Inc, a Cleveland based private equity firm. During Resilience's 15-year history, they have developed strong companies with solid and sustained performance results the right way: by providing companies with what they need to be the best. With this investment, All-American can continue to build upon its impressive legacy as the leading American-made supplier of lay-flat hose.

Same great products with delivery our customers can count on

All-American Hose with the Snap-tite, Ponn Conquest, Ponn Supreme, and National Fire Hose brands will continue to represent the highest quality, best performing, American-made, lay-flat hose throughout the municipal fire service, industrial, military and agricultural industries. Our customers can rely on All-American to deliver these critical products on time and within the shortest possible lead times.

Stable, industry-leading management and leadership

With over ten years of successful ownership of a wholesale fire hose supply company in the fire service industry, I will take over as CEO of the company. All-American's sales team has also been realigned to provide better service to its customers with Bill Graves in the Northeast, Mike Carson in the Southeast, Jeff Thompson in the Midwest, Woody Matthews in the West, Dean Lester in Canada, and Rob Metsker serving the Agriculture and Military markets. This experienced management team is committed to earning your loyalty and respect by working closely with you to provide the highest quality products when you need them.

How does our relationship get stronger with the change in ownership?

A stronger balance sheet and experienced management team make All-American a strong and reliable long term partner for your business. In turn you, our customer, can be assured that our dedicated workforce is focused on delivering quality, high performance products on time while meeting and even exceeding your expectations. You can anticipate our sales team reaching out to you in the next few months if they haven't already. We welcome any questions or comments that you may have. Thank you for your continued support of our iconic brands of Snap-tite, Ponn Conquest, Ponn Supreme, and National Fire Hose.

Sincerely,

Ron Stanley
